

Infinity

- We and our world will end, ... a long time in the future, but there will be an end
- Our efforts, however grand, will be as to nothing against eternity
- If $X \neq 0$, then $\frac{X}{\infty} = 0$ regardless of the size of X
- Ultimate meaning requires an ultimate, eternal being
- Local meaning could be rooted in our important environments

Deity & Faith

- True: We can't logically prove that there is no deity.
- True: We can't logically prove that there is a deity
- There are arguments both ways, but no conclusive proof
- The existence of a deity requires faith, and that's outside the scope of our conversations
